THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

FROM OCTOBER 26. TO NOVEMBER 2. 1738.

NEW-YORK, Octob. 25.

On Friday laſt the Lieutenant Governor was pleaſed to diſſolve the General Aſſembly; making the following SPEECH, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

WHEN you came together this Fall, I was not without Hopes that you brought with you hearty Diſpoſitions to conſult the true Intereſt of your Country, which can only be attained by a Loyal and Dutiful Regard to His Majeſty's Honour, in the Support of his Government; ſince it is from thence only that you can hope for my Aſſent to ſuch Laws as the People whom you repreſent expect you will prepare for it.

You cannot but know, that there are many Things of great Importance to the Province, that call'd for your early Help; for I recommended them to your Conſideration. On ſome of them the Welfare (I was going to ſay, the Fate) of your Country in a great Meaſure depends; but how unconcern'd you have been about them, the People whom you repreſent will ſee by your Votes.

Ever ſince the Revolution, the Æra from whence we may date our preſent Happineſs, in the full Enjoyment of our civil and ſacred Rights and Liberties, the Aſſemblies of this Province have from time to time given to his Majeſty and his Royal Predeceſſors, a Revenue for the Support of Government for a Term of Years; what I ask of you is no more. Other Aſſemblies, prompted only by their Duty, and their Zeal and Affection to His Majeſty, and his Royal Predeceſſors, have given ſuch Revenue as I have mentioned, but you had beſide theſe other inducements to do it.

You have a large Sum of Paper Money ſubſiſting, which will be next Year without any Fund to ſink it; its Currency will ceaſe, it will no longer paſs but become waſte Paper, and Hundreds of People will then be Loſers by it; for it will probably be in ſo many Hands: I offered to continue the ſinking Fund, if you would give ſuch a Revenue as former Aſſemblies have all along given; nor was there any Thing new or unreaſonable in the Demand. The Example of former Aſſemblies, your Duty to his Majeſty, and Gratitude for His conſtant Protection of your Trade and Country, both by Land and Sea, at a vaſt Expence (the Fruits whereof you reap) ought to have determined you to accept of my Offer; but inſtead of expreſſing your Gratitude and Duty, by Supporting his Majeſty's Government, as former Aſſemblies have done; you ſent Yeſterday two of your Members to acquaint me, That it was unanimouſly Reſolved by your Houſe, not to paſs any Bill for the grant of Money for the ſupport of Government, but with aſſurance that the Bills ſtruck and iſſued in the Years 1714 and 1717, as alſo the Exciſe Act, ſhould be continued from the firſt Day of November 1739, for a ſufficient Number of Years, to cancel and deſtroy them Bills.

I ſee too in your Votes of Yeſterday in the Afternoon a Reſolve of your Houſe, in the following Words, to wit

Reſolved, That in the Bill ordered to be brought in for the further ſupporting this Government, until the 31*ſt Day of* December, which will be in the Year 1739, and for paying the Salaries and Allowances in the Year 1737, there ſhall be added one or more Clauſes to continue the Act, Entituled, An Act for laying an Exciſe on all Strong Liquors retailed in this Colony, paſt in the Twelfth Year of Her late Majeſty Queen Anne, from the firſt Day of November 1739, for ſuch Number of Years as the Houſe ſhould conceive ſufficient to ſink and cancel the Bills of Credit which were ſtruck and iſſued by virtue of the two Acts commonly called the long Bills, paſſed in the Years 1714 and 1717, and that the Money to ariſe by the Exciſe to be ſo continued, ſhall be applied for ſinking and cancelling the ſaid Bills, and that the ſaid Bills ſhall remain current, during the time the ſaid Exciſe is now intended to be continued.

On this Reſolve you Ordered, That the Committee appointed to prepare the Bill firſt mentioned, do add proper Clauſes therein for the purpoſes mentioned in the foregoing Reſolution.

Theſe are ſuch preſumptuous, daring, and unprecedented Steps, that I could not look upon them without Aſtoniſhment, nor with Honour ſuffer you to ſit any longer.

I have therefore thought fit, with the unanimous Advice of His Majeſty's Council, to diſſolve you, and you are accordingly diſſolved.

PHI-

PHILADELPHIA.

Monday last being His Majesty's Birth Day, the principal Gentlemen of the City were entertain'd at Dinner by the Proprietor, at his House, where all the Loyal Healths were drank, under the Discharge of Cannon from the Ships in the Harbour, &c. And in the Afternoon the Governor gave a grand Entertainment to near 150 Gentlemen and Ladies, at the State-House, which concluded with a Ball. The Day ended with Illuminations, Bonfires, and other usual Demonstrations of Joy.

One Whitesides, who lately came from Ireland in Capt. Grieves, is apprehended and imprisoned at New-Castle, for uttering Counterfeit Twenty Shilling Bills of that Government. 1029 of the Bills were found in his Custody. And as it is not known what Quantity may have been dispers'd, we think proper to give our Readers such Marks to distinguish by, as may secure them from being impos'd on, viz.

In the Counterfeit Bills the Words, and Sussex, stand thus, (and Susſex) Sussex being considerably lower than and. In the true Bills those Words stand pretty even upon a Line.

In the Counterfeits, in the Word Payments, the n seems to lean backwards, thus, ɳ in the true ones it leans forwards.

In the Counterfeits, in the two last Lines, the f of the Word (of) stands right over the (n) in the Word (upon) thus, (of / upon) In the true Bills the same (f) stands right over the (o) of the same Word (upon) thus, (of / upon)

There is in both the True and Counterfeit Bills a Row of 10 Flour-de-luces, among the Signers Names; in the Counterfeit Bills they all stand even on a Line. In the true Bills, the 6th and 9th stand a little below the rest, thus, ✻✻✻✻✻✻✻✻✻✻ ----The Bills are Dated 1734.

IT is now some Months since a Book was published in this City, with the Title of All Slave-Keepers, &c. Apostates. In the Preface to which are these Words, viz. "These Things following are so far from offending or grieving my very dear, true and tender Friends called Quakers, who love the Truth more than all; that it is by their request and desire that They are made publick." From which Paragraph it is not improbable some Readers may be perswaded to believe the Author was one of the People called Quakers, and that his Book had been printed at their Request, especially, were they to be altogether silent on this Occasion. Therefore, they have thought it fit, and hereby do give publick Notice, that the Book aforesaid contains gross Abuses, not only against some of their Members in particular, but against the whole Society: That the Author is not of their religious Community; that they disapprove of his Conduct, the Composition, and Printing of his Book; and therefore are not to be accountable for its Contents.
